Pablo Picasso - Bouquet of Flowers

Peace

It does not mean to be in a place where there is no noise, trouble or hard work. It means to be in the midst of those things and still be calm in your heart.

Pablo Picasso - Dove of Peace

Peace

It is a choice.
We choose to believe it.
We choose to want it.
We choose to live it.
It is in our hands.

When two children are experiencing conflict it can be difficult for each child to really listen to what the other child is saying. To assist with this, one child holds the Dove Card in their hands and states why they are upset. They then pass the dove card to the other child who then has a chance to respond. The card is passed back and forth until each child has felt heard and acknowledged. The conversation should always end with a handshake signalling peace. This may require some adult guidance depending on the age of the children.

To Prepare the Dove Card

Cut out the dove card along the dotted line. Fold the dove card in half so that a dove is showing on each side of the card. Laminate the card for durability.

Complete the sentence and draw a picture.

I can help the world be more peaceful by:

Color and cut out the crests.

I'm giving peace a chance!

Peace begins in the heart.

Color, cut out, and laminate. Punch a hole for a bookmark string.
